October 30, 2001

We herewith invite the artists of the Marina Abramovic Class to participate in a performance-event at the Viafarini exhibition space in Milan. The event is scheduled for October 2002 and will consist of a three-days-programme, including performances and an exhibition of works.

Viafarini in Milan is a non-profit space, well-known for site-specific installations. It recently put up specific projects with Mona Hatoum, Asta Gröting, Jimmie Durham, Vito Acconci, Rosemarie Trockel and Tobias Rehberger.

Sincerely,

Patrizia Brusarosco
Director

Dear Melati Suryodarmo,

Thank you for your fax. Please find enclosed the letter of invitation. I hope it is fine for your purposes.

We too are going to look for funding for the exhibition, through the Goethe-Institut, etc. As we usually do, we need to find all the resources necessary for the event, to cover all the costs, beginning with travel, accommodation and meals, transport and technical equipment. You are many and Viafarini is a private non-profit space, which in Italy means that it is poor! Your help in looking for funding will be fundamental.

I also enclose a plan of the space.

Patrizia Brusarosco
