As part of ANYTIME SOON, project promoted by Viafarini for the Fuorisalone of the Milan Design Week focussing on designers and artists who work in close relationship to visual art, Viafarini presents a selection of Dutch designers: Eric Klarenbeek, Afke Golsteijn, Anthony Kleinepier, TTTVO, Buro Vormkrijgers and Bob Copray.

Despite the international relevance of the Milanese design fair with contemporary design, the event did not yet offer a project focusing on the open dialogue between design and the visual contemporary arts. This project intends to close the gap.

From mid February 2005 look at the website www.anytimesoon.nl for more information about the project. This website will be regularly updated with information on the project and its participants.

For more information about the participants, see the website www.anytimesoon.nl or CVs included on the CD.
