On Tuesday January 27, at 6:00 pm Viafarini DOCVA will present both Mamma non piangere, an editorial project by Stefania Galegati Shines, as well as her video work Humans. Both artworks, even if conceived on different media and aiming at distinct purposes, have been developed on a parallel path and are both based upon an omnivorous collection of images caught day by day from 2004 until present.

Artist book collects 120 snapshots, whose sequence wants to suggest a branch point of different meanings and reflections. Artist's view ranged on extremely wide spread of different contexts and scenarios.

Video work collects notes and images in a more chaotic mood, even if the well balanced through the original soundtrack. The video shows various locations: Amsterdam, New York, Tanzania, as well as Italian locations such as Bagnacavallo, Rome and Palermo. Humans is a kind of work diary, that quickly turns into a mantra composed by many slices of life that compose a sort of language.
